

АРАШАН-БЕШБЕЛЧИР

Country of origin: Kyrgyzstan

Type of product: Mineral water

Product information: The "Arashan" water, characterized by a high content of bioactive mineral (at least - organic) components and having specific physical and chemical properties (radioactivity, etc.), based on what their effect on the body throughout the century and therapeutic use. With therapeutic purposes are also used artificial mineral water is prepared.

In the Turkic-speaking peoples of the natural waters with healing properties, called "Arashan" or "Arasan". They are visually distinguished by the variety of natural water temperature and gas discharge. The people inhabiting the territory of Kyrgyzstan, since ancient times used the healing properties of mineral waters.

On the territory of Kyrgyzstan, there are more than 250 natural and artificial (wells) manifestations of mineral water. Of the 40 types of mineral water, isolated in practical balneology, 30, were found on the territory of Kyrgyzstan, as well as 10 more types with no close analogs. Mineral water from holding high count (compared to fresh) salt, gas, have specific properties (temperature, radioactivity, etc.), is responsible for their therapeutic effect.

In accordance with the definition given above are designed and put into practice the use of mineral waters. The following evaluation criteria

All mineral water in the territory Kyrgyzstana, depending on their chemical composition, properties and therapeutic value, divided into the following groups of balneology: salty water and brine, carbonic, thermal silica, radon, sulfide, ferrous and bromine.

Source:

State Service of Intellectual Property and Innovation under the Government of the Kyrgyz Republic (Kyrgyzpatent) - <http://www.patent.kg/index.php/ky/appelation-of-origin/106-naimenovanie-mest-proiskhozhdeniya-tovara/841-obshchaya-informatsiya.html>