

Zavkhan's Red Garlic

Zavkhan's red garlic was registered in the name of Jargaltai khorshoo, registration date:

2007.09.27, registration number: 6826, application number: 7357

The main characteristic of Zavkhan's red garlic is that it is red colored, with triple thick peels and strong taste and smell. The main origin is the Shivee bulan territory of the Uliastai center of the Zavkhan Province. A couple of farmers engage in planting the red garlic only in Uliastai.

The Jargaltai Khorshoo (Partnership) was established in 1993 and since that time has been involved in various activities, such as making recommendations and supporting new farmers in the region. The red garlic is famous nowadays at the market, and it is more expensive in comparison with other type of garlic. Red garlic became one of rarest plants in Mongolia.
