

RONGSHUI DUCK (融水香鸭)

Country of origin: China

Category: Special Signs of Geographical Indication Products

Type of product: Duck

Geographical Area: Guangxi Zhuang Autonomous Region, Rongshui Miao Autonomous County

Specificity of the Product: The ducks have always lived in natural rivers and valley streams; they are completely adapted to the local natural climatic and geographical environment. The duck breed is genetically stable, continuous, and has not hybridized with other duck or poultry species. Their meat has clear and specific organoleptic characteristics, physical and chemical index. Their natural climate is in meltwater areas. There is a big difference in the flavor and taste of their meat as opposed to commercially raised ducks.
