AN COUNTY KONJAC (安县魔芋)

Country of origin: China
Type of product: Traditional medicine
Geographical Area: County region
Specificity of the Product: An County Konjac contains high levels of active ingredients. It has a Konjac extraction recovery rate of 55-60%. It also has a "glucomannan" content that is 5% higher than other similar products. It also has a higher viscosity compared to products from other areas. Viscosity is a measure of konjac flour, one of the main indicators. A solution made with An County Konjac is transparent. The appearance of the Konjac powder produced here is particularly good, white in color, with a symmetrical crystal.
